

Class # 21 - Final Project

Now that you are full of knowledge from all the topics we have explored, let's work on this activity.

Complete a story by filling in the gaps with the missing information.

In this story, you will fill in the gaps with topics we have learned throughout this course. Below is a list of them so you don't forget.

- "The" to refer to something that was previously mentioned
- Plural Nouns
- "Much" & "Many"
- Questions with which, what, & whose
- "Can/can't" with verbs of perception
- "Let's"
- "Would like to"
- Please + verb
- Prepositions of Movement
- Adverbs of Movement and Direction
- Time Expressions
- "Going to" and "will"
- "Because ..."

Class # 21 - Final Project

Now, it's your turn!

Planning the End of the Year Party

Sebastian lived in a small town, but he worked for a big company. The company is called Liv4Change. He was in charge of the Wellness team in the HR department, and since this was his first year in the role, he was planning for the most important event of the year, the end-of-the-year party, and boy! There were many things to do.

He met up with his team since the first of November to start assigning tasks and to motivate them to do their best. He told them, "Let's make this end-of-the-year party the best the company has ever had." Sebastian is very passionate about what he does in the company because he loves making people happy and making them feel important.

At first, he didn't know what the theme of the party should have been. He had not only one idea but many. Eventually, he narrowed it down to three _____ (idea/ideas), but at the end, he chose the neon party theme. He didn't have _____ (much/many) experience planning parties; therefore, he had to hire a party planner to bring his vision to life. _____ (A/The) party planner thought that the neon-party theme was vibrant and energetic, with neon lights and glow-in-the-dark decorations.

Sebastian and his team weren't sure if to hire a band or a DJ, so he held a meeting where he asked his team, "_____ (What/Which) should we choose, a band or a DJ?" After voting, he noticed both options were tied. For that reason, he requested a budget increase, which was approved so that they could hire both a band and a DJ. Choosing the DJ was easy, but choosing the band wasn't, so they decided to write names and pick from a bag. The band that won was Fruko y sus Tesos. Sebastian asked, "_____ (Which/Whose) idea was it to hire the Fruko y sus Tesos? That is my favorite salsa band. I think we made a good choice."

A few days before the party, Sebastian was starting to get sick. However, he wasn't worried. He said, "If I _____ (can't/would like to) smell anything, then I know I am really sick, but for now, I feel like it is under control." The day before the event, he couldn't stay still. At the venue, he moved _____ (because/from) the entrance to the main hall. ensuring everything was in place.

Class # 21 - Final Project

Now, it's your turn!

On the night of the party, he told his team, “_____ (Let's/Will) have fun tonight. We all deserve it.” Everyone at the party seemed to be having a great time. The atmosphere was electric. There were neon signs and balloons, a cool LED dance floor, and glowing centerpieces. The guests wore neon-colored clothing and accessories.

When people were getting hungry, they went to the different food trucks to choose their meals. Sebastian went to the Mexican food truck even though he didn't like spicy food, but his friend made a bet with him and asked him, “_____ (Will/Would you like to) you try the tacos with some jalapeños?” Sebastian hesitated for a moment but then took on the challenge. He told the waiter, “I _____ (can't/would like to) order some tacos with jalapeños. He actually enjoyed it; it wasn't that bad after all. Sebastian even said, “I _____ (am going to/today) start eating spicy food from now on.”

Throughout the party, Sebastian danced _____ (around/along). He was not only making sure the employees were entertained, but he was also having a lot of fun. At the end of the party, he told everyone, “_____ (Let's/Please) don't forget to fill out the survey about the party.” He also said, “Your feedback is very important to us. With your responses, we will make the end-of-the-year party for _____ (next/at the moment) year even better.”

Sebastian was very proud of his team _____ (because/much) the party was a huge success. The neon party became a memorable event, leaving everyone talking about it for weeks to come.

Class # 21 - Final Project

Answers

Planning the End of the Year Party

Sebastian lived in a small town, but he worked for a big company. The company is called Liv4Change. He was in charge of the Wellness team in the HR department, and since this was his first year in the role, he was planning for the most important event of the year, the end-of-the-year party, and boy! There were many things to do.

He met up with his team since the first of November to start assigning tasks and to motivate them to do their best. He told them, "Let's make this end-of-the-year party the best the company has ever had." Sebastian is very passionate about what he does in the company because he loves making people happy and making them feel important.

At first, he didn't know what the theme of the party should have been. He had not only one idea but many. Eventually, he narrowed it down to three ideas but at the end, he chose the Neon party theme. He didn't have much experience planning parties; therefore, he had to hire a party planner to bring his vision to life. The party planner thought that the neon-party theme was vibrant and energetic, with neon lights and glow-in-the-dark decorations.

Sebastian and his team weren't sure if to hire a band or a DJ, so he held a meeting where he asked his team, "Which should we choose, a band or a DJ?" After voting, he noticed both options were tied. For that reason, he requested a budget increase, which was approved so that they could hire both a band and a DJ. Choosing the DJ was easy, but choosing the band wasn't, so they decided to write names and pick from a bag. The band that won was Fruko y sus Tesos. Sebastian asked, "Whose idea was it to hire the Fruko y sus Tesos? That is my favorite salsa band. I think we made a good choice."

A few days before the party, Sebastian was starting to get sick. However, he wasn't worried. He said, "If I can't smell anything, then I know I am really sick, but for now, I feel like it is under control." The day before the event, he couldn't stay still. At the venue, he moved from the entrance to the main hall, ensuring everything was in place.

Class # 21 - Final Project

Answers

On the night of the party, he told his team, “Let’s have fun tonight. We all deserve it.” Everyone at the party seemed to be having a great time. The atmosphere was electric. There were neon signs and balloons, a cool LED dance floor, and glowing centerpieces. The guests wore neon-colored clothing and accessories.

When people were getting hungry, they went to the different food trucks to choose their meals. Sebastian went to the Mexican food truck even though he didn’t like spicy food, but his friend made a bet with him and asked him, “Will you try the tacos with some jalapeños?” Sebastian hesitated for a moment but then took on the challenge. He told the waiter, “I would like to order some tacos with jalapeños. He actually enjoyed it; it wasn’t that bad after all. Sebastian even said, “I am going to start eating spicy food from now on.”

Throughout the party, Sebastian danced around. He was not only making sure the employees were entertained, but he was also having a lot of fun. At the end of the party, he told everyone, “Please don’t forget to fill out the survey about the party.” He also said, “Your feedback is very important to us. With your responses, we will make the end-of-the-year party for next year even better.”

Sebastian was very proud of his team because the party was a huge success. The neon party became a memorable event, leaving everyone talking about it for weeks to come.