

Class #14 - Adverbs of Movement & Direction

Based on the reading, answer the questions.

Samantha always has a busy day when the client goes to the office. She starts by checking her emails, and then she pushes her chair backwards to use the printer. Then she gets up and walks forward until she gets to the meeting room. When she is inside, she checks that the room is organized. She looks around curiously. Samantha then goes downstairs to greet the clients and take them through the operations and upward to the meeting room once again. Once they are there, she moves away so that they can start the meeting.

1. What direction does she push her chair?
2. Where does she go after using the printer?
3. Where does she go to greet the client?
4. What direction does she move so that the clients can start the meeting?

Class #14 - Adverbs of Movement & Direction

Answers

Samantha always has a busy day when the client goes to the office. She starts by checking her emails, and then she pushes her chair backwards to use the printer. Then she gets up and walks forward until she gets to the meeting room. When she is inside, she checks that the room is organized. She looks around curiously. Samantha then goes downstairs to greet the clients and take them through the operations and upward to the meeting room once again. Once they are there, she moves away so that they can start the meeting.

1. What direction does she push her chair?

Samantha pushes the chair backwards.

2. What direction does she walk to after using the printer?

She walks forward to the meeting room.

3. Where does she go to greet the clients?

She goes downstairs to greet the clients.

4. Where does she move so that the clients can start the meeting?

She moves away.